

The Inescapable Connection of Socialism to the Murder of 100 Million Captives

Why naïve utopian socialist fantasies will lead us AND our descendants into anguish

Socialism, by its suffix (ism), is a concept that is altered from merely including concern for the poor, to becoming an obligatory and all-extensive imposition of governmental power over all people. This is very future that younger generations are clamoring after.¹

Socialism, by definition, stands in bold contrast to the tenets of Capitalist economics as presumed by the United States Constitution. Stated plainly, Socialism is a top-downward administration, while U.S. society, by stark contrast, entails a “we the people...” formulation of a bottom’s-up approach to governance. Discussing these contrasting programs in solely abstract (as opposed to actual) realities can easily diminish the magnitude of the damning consequences of a vision which portends instead to create fair and equal societies, i.e., a utopia.

In addition to expressing a top-downward relationship between the “governing” and the “governed,” Socialism also imposes strictures on the latter which deprive them of rewards for their labors. The slogan, “From each according to his ability to each according to their needs,”² may, on the one hand please those who seek to avoid work, but on the other hand deprive sincere workers of financial benefits of their labor, and also both innovators, of their organic successes, and additionally visionaries, from seeing their insights unfold into reality. Only 90 miles south of the Florida Keys lies a “living” example of such a “failed [socialist] State”³ that began in prosperity (albeit morally-degenerate) yet quickly plunged into enslaved poverty.⁴ Venezuela too is another state which much more recently suddenly plunged from prosperity into similar levels of destitution as a result of a socialistic overhaul.⁵

This set of deprivations obstructs fairness both at individual and societal levels. Clearly members of the human race are NOT uniformly motivated in similar directions. Viewed then solely under rational (as opposed to religious) terms, Socialism, as reflected upon with care, brings a death-knell to free self-determination for a vast percentage of any population. Not only is it *statistically*⁶ clear that socialistic economies do not work, but they cannot possibly do so except by means of punishment from enforcers. Such indeed are the grounds for the murders of intellectually-driven and financially-successful people by Socialist regimes.⁷ This indeed is cause for scorning university academics who continue spreading the fables to their students that un-tethered Socialism inspires the human spirit. Pol Pot’s agenda proves, to the contrary, the consequences if such faculties faced his regime.⁸ Such indeed is the logical fallout

¹ <https://reason.com/2019/07/06/socialism-is-back-and-the-kids-are-loving-it/>

² <https://artsandculture.google.com/entity/from-each-according-to-his-ability-to-each-according-to-his-needs/m0cxcxc?hl=en>

³ President Joe Biden’s depiction in his public comments on July 15, 2021, of Cuba’s governance.

⁴ <https://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/comandante-pre-castro-cuba/>

⁵ <https://www.bloomberg.com/graphics/2019-venezuela-key-events/>

⁶ E.g. <https://www.wsj.com/articles/venezuelas-economic-collapse-explained-in-nine-charts-11553511601>

⁷ E.g. <https://www.history.com/topics/cold-war/pol-pot>

⁸ Ibid.

of universities replacing the classical goal of pursuing truth by all means possible, with imposing political activism whose so-called “teaching” methods contradict the former.

Although well-known movie stars, international business corporations, and successful athletes⁹ are often cited for lauding the “goodness” of present Socialist governments, they do so either at a geographical, or a socially-safe, distance from the actual experiential realities of the under-ling-commoners who exist in daily fear of punishment and squalor just outside of the “camera’s eye.” After all, it defies the will of Socialist Tyrants to unveil the traumatic realities that the enforcement of its principles requires.

Yet the most objective, and so, decisive indicator of the clear destructive consequence of Socialism is the testimony that in the 20th Century alone, over one hundred million people were murdered by their own despotic governments. Their methods entailed either 1) torture, 2) wide-scale imposed starvation, 3) traumatizing, 4) shootings, 5) gassings, 6) imprisonment, 6) forced dissolutions of /or severance of individuals from their families, 7) thuggery, 8) black-mail, or 9) in combination.¹⁰

Gary Jensen, Pastor © July 18, 2021
Holy Trinity Lutheran Church (NALC), Berlin, PA, USA

⁹ <https://www.indiewire.com/2021/07/jackie-chan-chinese-communist-party-member-1234651221/>  <https://www.cnbc.com/2021/07/13/op-ed-american-corporations-must-stop-selling-out-to-chinas-brutal-regime-.html>  <https://www.nbcnews.com/news/sports/lebron-james-criticized-saying-rockets-gm-misinformed-hong-kong-n1066351>

¹⁰ <https://www.washingtonpost.com/news/volokh-conspiracy/wp/2017/11/07/lessons-from-a-century-of-communism/>